Exhibition / frei_raum Q21 exhibition space Mood Swings – On Mood Politics, Sentiment Data, Market Sentiments and Other Sentiment Agencies

It is moods rather than facts that are determining perceptions, decisions and courses of action to an ever greater degree. Mood data, in turn, is a sought-after subject for analysis; emotions are being quantified and simulated. The exhibition "Mood Swings – On mood politics, sentiment data, market sentiments and other sentiment agencies", curated by Sabine Winkler, focuses on the significance and radius of sentiment in politics, business, technology, media and art. #moodswings

Date: Mar 31 to May 28, Tue–Sun, 13:00–20:00

Opening: Thu, Mar 30, 19:00

Location: frei_raum Q21 exhibition space

DESIGNER OF THE MONTH ULLIKO

ulliKo stands for purism in its most modern form. Simple and full of dynamism. Clean lines communicating a clear style. The collections focus on a dominant color theme in black, white and red. The expressive potential of this color combination is distinctive without being intrusive. The designer's penchant for lines, stripes and simple geometrical constructions underlines this aesthetic of clear and authentic style.

MUMOK

Oh... Jakob Lena Knebl and the mumok collection

Feb 17 to Oct 22

mumok

The artist Jakob Lena Knebl (born 1970, Baden) has no time for stereotyped thinking in life or in art. And it is with corresponding freedom that she approaches her rearrangement of the collection of modern and contemporary art at mumok, which she presents in a spirit of fearless eccentricity from Mar 17, 2017 on two floors, together with her own works. Under the title "Oh...", Knebl refers to the effect of surprise that results from an attentive gaze with new presuppositions.

diverCITYLAB & Dschungel Wien

Mar 10 to June 2

For everyone ages 16 and up

"There's no generation any more, just a situation that can no longer be borne."
Who has the right to a dignified and peaceful life without hunger? Who has the right to survive and who will die?
"Nowhere in peace. Antigone." takes Sophocles' drama as its model in order to pose these questions. The fortress of Thebes becomes Fortress Europe, with death raging at the frontiers. The watchman Frontex attempts to defend it, while the ruler Creon upholds a democracy whose meaning he has long since forgotten. Antigone becomes a symbol of women who resist but lose hope. She is activist, fighter, reporter, demonstrator, assassin, refugee, helper, woman.

A production of diverCITYLAB–PERFORMANCE- und THEATERlabor and DSCHUNGEL WIEN in cooperation with Werk X.

The Forest of Mirrors
Endangered Human Movements Vol.3
Première / TQW co-production
Fri, Mar 17 & Sat, Mar 18, 19:30
TQW/Halle

Two dancers, Amanda Piña and Linda Samaraweerová, challenge the divisions between species: between animal, plant and human, friend and foe, strange and familiar. Inspired by the hybrid beings that populate Amerindian imagery, the piece forms a sensual bridge between traditional indigenous knowledge and posthumanist philosophy. At the intersection between the forgotten and the unknown emerges a reflection of the present. A transhuman, visual cabaret without fear of genre codes or aesthetics. A dance of continuous transformation between the species.

More than Just Words (On the Poetic)

Mar 8 to May 7
Opening: Mar 7, 19:00
Poetry has long been a source of inspiration for the visual arts. "More than Just Words [On the Poetic]" takes up the idea of the poetic function of communication and uses it as a jumping-off point for expressive possibilities beyond the semantics of the single, unambiguous meaning. The exhibition is interested in an open language of multiple meanings and finds this in concrete poetry, films and videos, collages, installations and performances.
